MoCue, He Beats Hyphon a Ne

watched by 20,000 spectators, whose nerves ore leaden with sorrow and whose nerves ere deadened with the shock, A. H. and H. Morris's chestnut soit Compute, by anover—Reckon, superbly ridden by P. leCue, ran home victorious in the Fonhall takes of $15,000 at Brighton Beach track terday afternoon. It was an upset so plete that bettors, big and little, were thy time being struck dumb, for Compute been so generally ignored in the speculathat he went to the post with 20 to it him. Still, the son of Hanover ran race; his triumph was not a fluke. upt. S. S. Brown's bay colt Hyphen, with Talsh in the saddle, was second, a neck ad, his price being 15 to 1. Third in the ruggie, also a head back, ran William C.

Thitney's bay colt Goldsmith, handled by emmy Burns and second choice in the beting. In the ruck, where they merely ineased the unhappiness of the great throng ere the leading selections, including A. atherstone's Hatasoo, the 11 to 5 favorite; C. McDowell's Alan-a-Dele, the winner of equal terms with Goldsmith in yesterday's iting; J. E. Madden's double entry, City lank, Shaw having the leg up, and Peninhiskey King.

Hatasoo and Alan-a-Dale opened equal vortees at 2 to 1, but it was not very long fore the layers found that the talent hanked for Hatasoo with so much eagerness the money came pouring in to the ring millstream. With O'Connor having the nt, it was argued that Hatasoo would be rented from running wide at the turn, for that reason her phenomenal sprinting ty would help to run the others off their set. Even when it was learned that the rack Albert filly was showing signs of lamese in the paddock the crowd kept on putting wn the money until i'l to 5 was the quotation gainst the favorite.

the race was run, Hatasoo, after setting he the race was run, Hatasoo, after setting heart-breaking pace to the turn, shot her it and was unable to respond to the chalge hurled at her by Compute, that had been rauing the filly with relentless vigor all the ty. So as Hatasoo went up in thin smoke, to speak, the crowd had very little fault to d with the way she had been handled, for make pace with her was the proper thing do. After the race Hatasoc pulled up so no that she will not be able to compete again a some time.

to do. After the race Hatasco pulled up so lame that she will not be able to compete again for some time.

With the plunge on Hatasco came the raising of Alan-a-Dale's price to fours. Goldamith, however, remained steady in the apeculation and a ton of gold certificates was plastered all over him. Barring the Madden entries, City Bank and Peninsula, the price against every other horse in the race receded. City Bank, because of his sterling victory, first time out last Tuesday, was considered a dangerous factor, and as Shaw was selected to ride him and Spencer had the mount on his half-brother, Peninsula, the stable, against which 5 to 1 was offered, was a magnet that drew all kinds of money. Compute opened at 10 to 1, but as there was no demand for him to speak of the price went back to thirties, and in some instances fifties. Hyphen was raised from twelves to fitteens. It was the first running of the Foxhall Stakes, and incidentally it was the richest event ever decided at Brighton. Therefore, when the horses paraded past the stand the brilliant colors of the lockeys flashing in the sunlight, the importance and the picturesqueness of the affair were readily appreciated. "Hatasco is iame!" was the comment as the feet-footed Albert filly came out of the paddock gate. She fairly hobbled at first but as O'Connor turned her and set out for the poat at a smart canter, the filly appeared to work the soreness out. Owing to a patch of quick-sand in the "chute." where the barrier was, the big field of twelve was divided into two squads, as it were, and when the flag fell every horse was well placed and going file are the standard the paradox of the paradox of the patched to the patc was in an excited state of initial. Everyoody could see that Hatasoo had a world of speed and that her lameness had disappeared. The fact that she had been lame on previous occasions and yet had won was enough to fill the spectators with unlimited confidence. Leading the others at this stage were Compute, Disadvantage and Goldsmith, heads apart. With a length of daylight behind this bunch rushed Otts, Oom Paul and Peninsula, neck and neck. Alan-a-dale, Hyphen, Masterman, and City Bank brought up the rear, Shaw's mount running as if his heart had been shattered.

When three furlongs had been covered Hatasoo's lead had been out down so materially that she was leading Compute by a head.

"Hatasoo will run away from him in the atretoli" yelled the crowd.
"Compute will blow up in a minute!" cried

Hatasoo will run away from him in the stretchil" yelled the crowd.

"Compute will blow up in a minute!" cried many.

But Hatasoo, though O'Connor kept her close to the rail so that she did not run out, was in distress. Compute with plenty of speed and great stamins was galloping along so easily that his explosion to practised eyes seemed a remote possibility. Goldsmith was a length behind them, but running neck and neck with Mr. Whitney's coit were Disadvantage. Peninsula, Hyphen. Otis, Whiskey King and Alan-a-Dale.

It was a beautiful tussie and the excitement of the onlookers knew no bounds. Nearing the turn Hatasoo clung to the rail, but with every jump Compute increased the bellef that he would be in the money. When the Hanover coit finally passed the favorite and was leading by half a length at the half mile it seemed to be all over. But Hatasoo had another spurt in her and under the whip she wrested the lead from Compute as they rounded the trn. O'Connor kept the favorite again O'Connor subjected the Albert filly to the whip to no purpose. Hatasoo had had enough and though she struggled gamely to keep up she dropted away. Then Compute, with McCue riding him in splendid fashion, made his final run for victory. Goldsmith. Hyphen, Peninsula and Masterman were after him in a compact bunch but Peninsula and Masterman stopped short. Hyphen passed Goldsmith 100 vards from the end but Burns punished Mr. Whitney's colt so severely that he came again, and Hyphen was hard pressed. Compute, too, was put to it to keep in front. McCue, however, was the master, and in a drive the Hanover colt was victorious by a neck in front of Goldsmith, the latter beating Otis, 30 to 1, by three lengths. Otis, Oom Paul, Hatasoo and Masterman were heads apart, with Alan-a-Dale eighth, three lengths off. City Bank was next to the last horse. Whiskey King.

The Chantilly Stakes, a hurdle handicap for four-vear-olds and upward, at one mile and shelf, opened the sport. Passe Partout was first in favor at 13 to 5, with Klondyke next at 7

Pirtout

Eighteen maiden three-year-olds and upward met in the second race, a selling event at one mile and seventy yards. Goldfila was the favorite at 7 to 2, chiefly because Shaw had the mount and Pittsburg Phil was known to be backing him. Goldfila led all the way into the stretch, where the Black Scot overhauled him and won easily by two lengths.

Soot overhauled him and won easily by two lengths.

The third race, a handicap for three-vear-olds and upward at a mile and an eighth was won by T. C. McDowell's Monarka, 7 to 8 tayorite, by three lengths.

Though Mayor Gilroy was the favorite to win the fifth race at six furlongs and Shaw had the mount, he ran unplaced. Annie Thompson played from fives to fours, won in a gallop by three lengths.

Cameron, 2 to 9, took the last race at five and a half furlongs, without much trouble. He galloped in half a length in front of Sombrero in 1:07 2-5. The summaries:

Angelure, by St. Angelo—Pattinenae, was in the name of Lord Clonmell, an Irish nobleman, who, by the way, is the first to run horses on American tracks.

When Ethics won the last race at Brighton on Friday there was lively bidding. The Charaxus coit, really the last of M. F. Dwyer's former great stable, was entered to be sold for $1.500. The price was quickly run up to $3.500 and then the owner retained the coit with an extra $5 bid. While the bidding was going on, M. P. Dwyer sat in a carriage close by and looked on anxiously. Those who remembered old times realized how little sentiment there is among business-like horsemen.

DOTE OF THE LOCAL TRANS WHEN

Both of the local ball teams were defeated yesterday. The New Yorks lost their fourth straight game to Chicago and the Pittsburgs captured one out of the series with Brooklyn. e slump of the New Yorks has brought im down to the .500 mark, and the Bostons threatening to take fifth place away from of .580. The Brooklyns were worsted age of .580. The Brooklyns were worsted good and hard yesterday, but their performances at Pittsburg were most creditable. The Bostons were a surprise at St. Louis. They not only wen easily yesterday, but took three out of five games at that city. The Philadelphias succumbed to the Cincinnatis. The Chicages and Bostons were both vanquished in the American League, the former by the Philadelphias and the latter by the Detroits. The Washingtons beat the Clevelands and the Baltimores beat the Milwaukees. The day's scoring was the Milwaukees. The day's scoring was heavy, 115 runs being made in the two leagues The National League results and standing

CHICAGO, July 20.-The Chicagos defeate the New Yorks again to-day, the score being 7 to 2. Phyle went up in the air in the second inning, and before he came down Chicago had made six runs. The visitors tried hard to overcome this lead, but falled. Waddell in fine form and kept the hits well scattered. He struck out eight men and gave only one base on balls. Hickman made two fine ontohes back of third base, one of them almost at the fence. Davis also made two nice pick-ups back of second base. The two nice pick-ups back of second base. The New Yorks secred their first run in the fourth inning, when Selbach and Davis singled. Their second and last run was made in the ninth inning, when Strang beat out a bunt. He went to third on Warner's single and scored when Smith, who went to the bat for Phyle, sacrificed. The Chicagos made sk of their seven runs in the second inning. Phyle gave Childs a base on balls and Raymer mick's pop-up, filling the bases. Kahoe made a triple to deep centre and three runs were scored. Three more runs came in on a double by Waddell and Hartsel and a single by Chance. Hickman stopped further trouble by gathering in Dexter's foul near the stand. The Chicagos made another run in the eighth inning on a single and double. The score:

PITTSBURG, July 20.—The Pittsburg team took a decided brace to-day and won from Brooklyn. The Leegie leader had lost four consecutive games and was in a desperate mood. For the first time this week it played championship ball and as Brooklyn did not have steady pitching it was left far behind. When a member of the Cincinnati team, Dr. Newton was usually successful against Pittsburg, and knowledge of this fact induced Hanlon to try out his new pitcher here. For three innings Newtown was as affective as ever, but in the first inning a base on balls, Wagner's homer and singles by Bransfield, Ritchey, E. iy and Zimmer, with errors by Sheckard and McCreery, accored four runs. Three singles and errors by Kelley and McCreery gave Pittsburg three more runs in the fifth inning. Carsey began pitching in the sixth inning and retired the first three men who faced him. In the last two innings eight hits and eight runs were charged to his account. Keeler scored Brooklyn's first run on a bunt, Sheckard's single and Daly's out at first. Sheckard scored the second run on his own single and hits by Daly and Dahlen. The fielding of Daly and Dahlen was the redeeming feature of Brooklyn's playing. The score:

Lawrence Waterbury Injured in Game for Ladies' Challenge Cup. HEMPSTEAD, July 20 .- The Country Club of Westchester polo team defeated the Rockaway first team in the first game for the Ladies' Challenge Cup to-day. The first period was a stand-off in goal getting, each team making 2. At the beginning of the second period Lawrence Waterbury broke his mallet and the end flew up in his face, hadly lacerating the left cheek. It took ten minutes to have the wound dressed. ST. LOUIS, July 20.—Hoston won to-day's game by a sorre of 10 to 2. Harper opened the pitching for the Cardinals, lasting two innings and a half of the third, during which ten hits were made and seven runs scored. Then Sudhoff went in, but the game for the visitors, the home team being unable to solve his delivery. St. Louis failed to score until the seventh inning, when they made two runs. Hevdon's homer brings in A. Nichols. Attendance, 7,500. Score:

Jockey Club Stewards Take Action in the Was Taper Affair.

The stewards of the Jockey Club held a neeting at Brighton Beach track yesterday afternoon. Those present were James R. Keene, J. G. Follan bee, F. R. Hitchcock and Andrew Miller. Because of fraudulent practices in relation to the race of the horse Wax Taper on June 25 Jockey C. Combs and W. P. was alleged at the time that Combs received $500 for pulling the horse. Since then much incriminating evidence has been secured against both Combs and Ware, the latter being charged with having engineered the against both Combs and ware, the latter being charged with having engineered the deal.

The stewards authorized the Secretary to accept the registration of the two-year-old brown coit Emulator, by Halma—Emulate, under the rules. The coit had not been registered prior to the 1st of November of his foal year. The Trensurer was authorized to forward $100 to Mrs. John Collins, mother of the late Jockey Edward Collins, and to charge the same to the Jockey Fund. The following licenses were granted:

UPSETS AT ROWING RACES:

BACK VESPER BIGHT BRATEN TWO CANADIAN CREWS.

kill—Titus Captures a Pine Struggle—Ten Ryck Still the Champion Sculler—West-ern Four Defeated—Hig Crowd on Mand. PRILADELPHIA, July 20.- Sensations and up of the National Regatta on the Schuylkill to-day. Chief of the startling features was two crews from across the border. It is true that De Baecke and Geiger, two men that rowed when the crew won the cham pionship of the world at Paris, were not able to handle their sweeps to-day, but the defeat was felt by the Quakers just as much and the 20,000 spectators went home sorrowful from one of the best day's sport ever provided by the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen. De Baecke was expected to row until this morning, when he was taken to the German Hospital suffering from ap-

The Argonaute carried off the chief honore brough the downfall of the Vespers, while the Winnipegs, who only graduated to the senior class by winning the intermediate eighte yesterday, finished a length and a quarter behind the Toronto crew and a similar distance in front of the Vespers. The victory of the Argonauts was regarded as victory of the Argonauts was regarded as another indorsement of the English style of rowing, for the Canadians come nearer to the long bedy swing of the Britons than any other crew on this side of the water. Lack of condition may have had something to do with the Vespers' defect. They clearly outrowed the Winnipegs in the first half of the race, but after that only the rhythm of their atroks and sheet summerse kent them.

The Canadian contingent met with an nexpected reversal in the association singles, were beaten after a grand race by C. S. Titus the courtesy of the other competitors, as he was disqualified in his trial heat yesterday for failing to turn the stake. It is a tribute to the sportsmanship of the Canadians that the suggestion to allow Titus to row in the final was made by the captain of the Argonaut the suggestion to allow Titus to row in the final was made by the captain of the Argonaut Boat Club.

Oarsmen from the vicinity of New York gained further honors during the day for Kafka and Mulcahy of the Atalantas won the intermediate doubles, in which the Unions looked to be winners until they bungled matters badly at the turn.

Titus did not avail himself of the opportunity to step up into the championship rank and Ten Eyck showed that he is still immeasurably the superior of any amateur single sculier in this country by defoating Greer of Boston with consummate ease. Ten Eyck rowed with all the dash and style that he had in 1897, when he won the diamond soulls at Henley, and in spite of his added avordupois it is evident that his day as a sculer is far from being over.

The Vespers had some consolationto-day by turning the tables on the Western Rowing Club four in the international race, which was rowed over a straightaway course. That was the only victory credited to Philadelphia, for the Detroit crew easily won the internediate doubles and Lou Scholes, brother of the amateur boxing champion, wen the intermediate doubles and Lou Scholes, brother of the amateur boxing champion, won the intermediate singles in the colors of the Don Rowing Club of Toronto.

The Executive Board of the N. A. A. O. met to-day for the election of officers, After a lively session the balloting resulted as follows: President, Waker Stimpson, Boston: Vice-President, Waker Stimpson,

This race was rowed in heats. Scholes won the first in 11 minutes 31 seconds, with Moran second. Miller won the second heat with McCloskey second, in 16 minutes 21 seconds. The final was easy for Scholes, The Canadian reached the two strokes before Miller and completely outscuiled his rivals on the way home. Miller and McCloskey were having a tussic for second closkey were having a tussue for second place when the latter went ashore. Mo-closkey got into his rowing again, but could not catch Miller. All the crews got away well except the Cliftons. The Staten Islanders set off at a good stroke and picked up rapidly so that after 200 yards the crews were in almost perfect alignment. The Winnipegs were rowing steadier than the others, and though the Passalcs led for a few strokes the Newark men lost their advantage by poor steering.
This let the Winnipegs in the lead at the quarter, with the Harlems second, a shade in front of the Cliftons and Passales. The Winnipegs made a sad mess of turning on the inside, while the Passales shot across stream and with an easy swing got around so quickly that they lined out for the final, two lengths ahead of the Harlems. The Staten Islanders got around before the Winnipegs. The Canadians were rattled and ran ashore. With a good strong stroke the Passales kept the Harlems and Cliftons at bay and won by two lengths.

C. S. Titua, Union B. C., New York.

J. B. Juvenal, Vesper B. C., Philadelphia.
C. S. Titus, Union B. C., New York.
This proved one of the most exciting single races ever rowed on the Schuyikili. Titus was away first but Bond did some great work in the first quarter and led by half a length. The other four were in a line and kept so until nearing the half mile when Johnstone drew out and went by Bond. The Barge Club man was done for here, but Titus and Marsh followed Johnstone in close order. Marsh reached the turn half a stroke in front of Johnstone and Titus, but the Winnipeg man went around in better style and cut loose for home a stroke in front of Titus. Johnstone and the Union man then began sculling in earnest and at the mile the Winnipeg man was a length and a half in front of Titus, while Marsh was two lengths behind the Union sculler. Going by Peter's Island the Union sculler slowly began to pick up on Johnstone and the spectators yelled as they realized that a battle between the American and Canadian representatives was on. The Winnipeg man held the lead until 200 yards from the finish, when Titus spurted in grand style and his shell shet to the front. Holding his speed to the finish Titus won by three quarters of a length. Time 9 minutes 46 seconds. INTERMEDIATE DOUBLE SHELL-PINAL HEAT Detroit B. C. - Walter Mower, bow; Dirie B. Duffield, stroke.

The Detroits took the lead at the start and at the quarter had an advantage of half a length, with the two New York crews fighting for second place. The Westerners kept increasing their lead and turned two lengths in front of the New Yorks. The "winged-foot" double was a length to the good of the Harlems starting on the homeward journey, but could make no impression on the Detroits. The latter crew was four lengths in front at the mile and won easily by five lengths. New York beat the Harlems by a length and a half. Time, 9 minutes 24% seconds.

This race was rowed straightaway. The Vespers completely turned the tables on the St. Louis crew that won decisively yesterday. The Quakers were far enough in advance of their rivals to cross the bow of the Western crew at half a mile, and at three-quarters there were two lengths of open water between the two boats. The poor condition of Exley and Marsh was shown in the last quarter of a mile, when Lockwood and Carr began to pull them across the river. The Vespers just managed to keep in the course, however, and

The Pennsylvania barge pair did not know the first principles of syen-rowing, and a hundred yards after the start they came within a few inches of fouling the Atalantas. It spite of sig-ragging all the way to the duarter flag the barge erew was only half a length behind the Unions and the West Philadelphias. Lenahan and Cornell sculled beautifully to the turn, where they led West Philadelphias Lenahan and Cornell sculled beautifully to the turn, where they led West Philadelphia by two lengths. While slowing up the Unions had to get out of the way of the Atalantas and the latter pair, making a better turn than West Philadelphia, started toward home a length and a half to the good. By the time the Unions had finished their disastrous mangeuvre they were last, twenty lengths behind the leaders. The Atalantas pulled strongly all the way down and won by three lengths from the West Philadelphias, and the Harlems were fourth, a similar distance behind. Time, 10 minutes 11% seconds.

Ten Eyck gave a fine exhibition of sculling the rowed thirty-two strokes to the minute against thirty-eight put in by Greer but left the Boaton sculler as soon as he tried From a splendid start the men rowed even for 300 yards, when Greer went a trifle in front and led by a quarter of a length at the quartor. Greer kept looking out of his boat at Ten Eyck, and the Worcester man occasionally returned the compliment. At the half-mie Ten Eyck began to draw away Ten Eyck began the second half of the course with a lead of nearly three lengths. After this the Whohusett sculler simply paddled, yet he crossed the line four lengths in front. Time, 9 minutes falls seconds.

Jim Pilkington sent the crews away to a fine start. The Vespers caught the water first and with a snappy 33-stroke forged elightly shead. Rowing together in smooth style and keeping up the fast stroke, the Vespers could not leave the Argonauts, who were putting in only 36 strokes to the minute. The pace was too fast for the Winnipegs and they fell a length behind at the quarter, at which point the Vespers and Argonauts were still fighting for the lead. The Quakers could not maintain their fast stroke and dropped to 35, while the Argonauts with their long-body oaring and steady 36 stroke slowly but surely moved the nose of their boat further in front of the champions. At half a mile the Argonauts were half a length in front of the Vespers, while the other Canadian crew was plugging along two lengths behind. Going under the bridge at half distance the Argonauts pulled away until There was nearly a boat's length of open water between them and the Vespers. Then the Winnipegs became a factor. They came up so rapidly that they were on even ferms with the Vespers and strain at the cars as they would, they could not hold even the slower of the Canadian crews. The fleroe struggle for second place between the Vespers and Winnipegs forced the laster crew nearer to the Argonauts at every stroke. All three crews spurted in the last furlong, but in the final rush the Argonauts held their own and crossed the line a length and a quarter in front of the Winnipegs, while there was just a streak of open water between the Winnipegs and Vespers. Time, 7 minutes 49 seconds.
